

Fellow Auke van Dijk

Auke J. van Dijk (auke.van.dijk@politie.nl) is senior strategist for the executive team (Korpsleiding) of the Dutch police, engaged in long-term strategy and its connection with current policy decisions. His academic background is in International Relations Theory and International Political Economy. He has worked at the Dutch Organization for Applied Research on the consequences for government of the network and information society. He has been senior advisor at the Dutch Council for Public Administration, a formal strategic independent think tank advising the Cabinet and Parliament; his work was mainly on security issues. He was senior advisor to the independent ministerial committee advising government on the development of the Dutch Intelligence and Security Services. He was a member of the committee – set up by the Council of Chief Police Commissioners – which developed a new vision and strategy for policing. He was cofounder of the Agora police & security, which is an experimental space for thinking and debate among practitioners and academics.

Since 2012 he is been a member of the advisory board of the Centre for Law Enforcement and Public Health (CLEPH) in Melbourne (Australia). He was heavily involved in organizing the second & third International Conference on Law Enforcement and Public Health (LEPH 2014 & 2016, Amsterdam) and was a member of the program committee for the fourth conference in Toronto (2018) and the fifth conference in Edinburgh (2019). Currently is involved in the setup for the next conference in Philadelphia in 2021. He is a member of the board of the Global Law Enforcement and Public Health Association (<https://gleapha.wildapricot.org/>) since 2017. Recently his focus is on vulnerable groups, marginalized communities, policing diversity, public protection, multi-agency (including leadership) and the further development and organization of police – academic relations.

Publications

- Auke van Dijk, Jeroen Zoeteman & Thijs Fassaert (2020) 'Nursing and policing as boundary-spanning professions: from crisis management towards community outcomes in mental health' in Journal of Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing.
- Auke van Dijk, Frank Hoogewoning & Maurice Punch (2019, revised version Cahier Politiestudies 2018-3) 'Running on empty. Reinvigorating policing through 'what matters''. Series: Perspectives on Policing; paper 5. London: The Police Foundation. <http://www.police-foundation.org.uk/publication/perspectives-on-policing-running-on-empty-reinvigorating-policing-through-what-matters/>.
- Auke van Dijk, Victoria Herrington, Nick Crofts, Robert Breuning, Scott Buris, Helen Sullivan, John Middleton, Susan Sherman & Nicholas Thomson (2019) 'Law enforcement and public health: recognition and enhancement of joined-up solutions' in The Lancet, Vol. 393, pp.287-294. <https://www.thelancet.com/series/security-and-public-health>.

- Amanda Keller, John Rich & Auke van Dijk (2017) 'Rethinking how we police communities' in Alonzo L. Plough (ed.) Knowledge to action. Accelerating progress in health, well-being, and equity. Oxford: Oxford University Press.
- Auke van Dijk & Nick Crofts (2017) 'Law enforcement and public health as an emerging field' in a special issue of Policing and Society: An International Journal of Research and Policy, 27:3, pp.261-275.
- Auke van Dijk, Frank Hoogewoning & Maurice Punch (2016) 'Policing at a turning point: implications for research' in Brunger, Tong & Martin (eds.) Introduction to Policing Research: Taking lessons from practice, pp. 29-41. London & New York: Routledge, Taylor & Francis Group.
- P-J. Aalbersberg & A.J. van Dijk (2015) 'Crafting the domain of policing and public health in Amsterdam' in European Journal of Policing Studies, vol. 3, no.4, pp. 375-393.
- Auke van Dijk, Frank Hoogewoning & Maurice Punch (2015) What Matters in Policing? Change, Values and Leadership in Turbulent Times. Bristol (UK): Policy Press.